Sabinet

Facilitating access to information

Looking for answers? Call on the experts for help

Established in 1983, as a library support services provider, Sabinet is today a leader in facilitating access to information. Over the past decades, the company has grown extensively to provide a wide range of online products and services to diverse markets.

We believe that in providing the right tools and information better decisions can be made. Our online labour services relate specifically to giving you access to Acts, Judgments and Bargaining Council Agreements and much more.

Our labour portfolio includes both Reported and Unreported Labour and Pension Fund Judgments, CCMA and Bargaining Council Awards, Acts, and Journals.

This service is a very innovative and user-friendly service with an easy Google-like search functionality as well as easy-to-use menu options to assist users in finding their required information as quickly as possible.

Some of the benefits of our labour service:

- Available 24 hours via an easy-to-use online service
- The Judgments are linked to articles which discuss that specific Judgment. Where possible, these articles link to the full text in our Sabinet electronic journals product (SA ePublications' Labour Collection)
- "Cases related to sections of the Act" is a list containing every Act and the sections of that Act that have been referred to within a judgment. The user can then click on any section and view a list of all judgments in which that section was referred to
- Labour and Pension Fund Judgments both reported and unreported are made available to you within five days from receiving it from the courts
- We are the only supplier of up-to-date Bargaining Council Agreements for all of the Registered Bargaining Councils
- Access to 29 Labour related updated and consolidated Acts with all their Rules and Regulations which are all fully searchable and available via an A-Z list format
- All Labour Forms are available electronically via our service

- A – Z lists of Bargaining Councils, Statutory Councils, Trade Unions, Trade Union Federation and Employer's Organisations which contain their Contact Details, Registration Notice, Intention to Register or De-Register Notices and Cancellation Notices

- Direct links to the Rules of Court, Practice directives and various Labour procedures

Sabinet offers you an array of online legal services including:

- South African National Legislation offers all updated and consolidated principal Acts, Rules and Regulations

- Provincial Legislation offers Acts, Ordinances and Regulations still in force and applicable to all provinces from 1910 to date

- Municipal By-Laws offers all updated Municipal By-laws in force from 1995 to date, for the individual South African Municipalities in all nine Provinces

- Extensive customised monitoring of public policy and Legislative documents in Government and Parliament

- Bill Tracker tracks the updated status of draft Bills, Bills, Policy Papers and other related documents

- Bargaining Council Agreements, labour-related Legislation and full text articles

- Complete online collection of SA Gazetted information including Government Gazettes and Provincial Gazettes since 1994
